ONE ENJOYS
Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, head aches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Messrs. C. S. Swigert and Marcella Ben are utilizing the gas from the Cloverport Mineral Co.'s well No. 2, in their residence.

Dr. W. B. White, Jr., and family, of Tell City, passed up on the boat Monday night en route to Louisville, where they will make their home in the future.

Dr. R. S. Addison, of Louisville, was in Dr. W. B. White's dental office. The doctor is a hunter and can put as good a good dog in his mouth as any dentist.

The directors of the Commercial Club met last Wednesday, reorganized, added new life, and will later on be in the thick of things right along. The new board means business and some good work for the town will be the result.

Rev. Dorey Barber, wife of Wm. Barber, deceased of Stephensport, died at her home in Woodford county yesterday morning. Miss Eliza Barber, her sister-in-law, left on the 10 o'clock train here to attend the funeral.

Rev. Stevedore, who has been holding a protracted meeting in this place for several weeks, left Monday for Bowling Green, where he will hold a mission meeting. Mr. Holcomb is an excellent preacher and did good work for the church in this city.

Dr. W. B. White, who for a number of years has been a resident and a successful dentist in this city, removed with his family to Louisville Monday night, where he will reside in the future and continue his profession. He has rented handsome quarters on Fourth avenue and opened a splendid office.

Mr. John T. DeJernette, of Hardinsburg, was in town yesterday and handed us a dollar for a new subscriber. If all of our old subscribers, like Mr. DeJernette, would add one new one along with their own, it would be a fine thing for this city. It is so limited that there was foul play connected with his death. What is the end who the parties are, has not yet been developed. An inquest was held Monday night when the jury found that the death of the jury was that he came to his death by some unknown cause. Paid was said to be a quiet, inoffensive, hard-working, sober man and lived in a fine home.

The citizens of Irvington were in high good luck, over the appearance of two gentlemen in their town looking out a site on which to erect a large flouring mill. The gentlemen came from some of the upper counties, and are experienced mill men with plenty of capital. They were accompanied by Col. Edgar Bennett. Mr. Bennett after a short stay here, left for Irvington, took them over the country and then some of the magnificent farms in that section that grow such large quantities of wheat.

The country and the town of Irvington, the kind of a mill which they propose to put up will be a first-class one, and will cost about as much as $50,000. Irvington proposes to give the ground and aid the enterprise by private donations, and in this way they think will secure the structure.

The mill is doubtless needed in that section and Irvington will be a good point at which to locate it.

(Courier-Journal.)

Brandenburg, Ky., March 15.—This sleepy old town, located on its seven hills, like ancient Rome, has awakened to its importance and has organized a commercial club for the purpose of developing the considerable resources lying under its nose.

As stated in the Courier-Journal last week, a committee of the substantial business men of Brandenburg visited Louisville to discuss the propriety of such a step with the Louisville Commercial Club. The result of their visit was the determination to organize a club. With this object in view, a meeting was held at the court-house in Brandenburg last night, which, notwithstanding the rain was pouring in torrents, brought out a large number of the most wide-awake and substantial business men of the place. The meeting was called to order by Judge O. C. Richardson, temporary chairman. The committee that had visited Louisville, through its chairman, Judge Woolfolk, made a report of its investigation in Louisville, and spoke in the highest terms of the encouragement received from the Louisville Club. The committee's report was listened to with much interest, when, by way of getting the matter in shape, the Secretary was requested to present a paper among those present to see how many members might be obtained. Nearly every man signed his name, and in a few minutes the Secretary reported some twenty-five members. On motion, the club then proceeded to elect officers, which resulted as follows:

Judge O. C. Richardson, President; Dr. C. C. Passy, First Vice-President, and Judge J. F. Woolfolk, Second Vice-President.

The first business item, the election of Secretary and Treasurer and Board of Directors was postponed to next meeting.

The interest being manifested by the business men of Brandenburg and surrounding communities is a matter of great moment. Many of the prominent men of the county have signified their intention to join the club, and would have been present last night but for the inclement weather.

The development of this rich section is not only of interest to Brandenburg, but the entire county. There are resources here sufficient to supply the needs of the whole State, and lying comparatively idle. Why can't the business men of Louisville see it? I have few discoveries it is making arrangements to utilize it.

Salt water is a part of the material which is already on the grounds, will be erected as soon as the weather will permit, capable of making 100 or more of these salt water bottles in a few minutes, but, as all things must have a beginning, this is a start in the right direction and will soon lead to other establishments.

A road-salt plant is to be located here at once. The company, as I understand, is already formed for this important enterprise. Soda-salt, its value and its uses, few people understand. There is but one establishment for its manufacture in the United States—Syracuse, N. Y.—and the town on soda-salt imported into the United States amounts to about $5,000,000 annually. This will give the reader some idea of the importance of the article, and when the fact is recognized that everything for its manufacture, even to the fuel for making it, except one or two chemicals, the cost of which is negligible, is found here within the space of a square mile, it can be manufactured here than at Syracuse, where they have to buy their salt, water, their lime and their fuel, and transport it a long distance to that. There is no material going to waste here to make soda-salt enough to supply the United States and save to the State about $5,000,000 import duty. Why not let the old gentlemen keep that salt water in his pocket, and make our soda-salt here in Maude County? I am told that the salt water is taken to make 100 barrels of salt will make the same quantity, or even more, soda-salt. And suppose that there is salt water enough now going to waste, flowing from wells and down away on the ground, it is affirmed by salt makers, to make 5,000 barrels of salt daily.

As an illustration of the value of the salt water in this section, we may compare the manufacturers of salt in Michigan, who have discovered a fine vein of rock salt three thousand feet below the surface, which they utilize by boring wells to it, filled with fresh water from wells bored for the purpose. The fresh water is pumped into the salt wells, where it remains until sufficiently impregnated with salt. It is then pumped out and manufactured into salt, the fuel for which is purchased and transported from a distance. Now, if salt can be profitably manufactured under circumstances that would be the profit made from these wells flowing salt water, without any artificial means and with natural gas for fuel, which is a great deal of it at least, being wasted, it is a fact that I have made a tour through the gas fields since I came here. It is the first time I have been in the gas region for more than a year, and many new wells have been put down in that time. I have taken trouble to count the number of wells that have been sunk altogether, and find there have been about seventy-five, at least fifty of which produce nothing but gas. The gas is sold to the Louisville Gas & Light Co. at a price of $1.00 per thousand feet, and is used as being a good fuel, but as a safe and reliable man, one that you can depend on to be true to you. I hope you will give him a trial and be convinced.

MOOLEYVILLE.

South and Madeline.

An event that will be looked forward to with much pleasure in Louisville, will be the appearance at the Auditorium, May 1, 2, 3, of those two distinguished artists, Edwin Booth and Mme. Modjeska. While the public have seen both, they have never appeared jointly, which indeed will be a treat. Like the Grand Italian Company which has just closed a brilliant engagement in Louisville, this city is the only one south of the Ohio river in which the two stars will appear, and it will also be their farewell joint appearance.

The management of the Auditorium have tried to give attractions of such a class as would do the city of Louisville and State of Kentucky credit, which was evidenced in the late engagement of the Grand Opera Company.

There are no words of praise that can do justice to the genius of Edwin Booth and Mme. Modjeska. The beautiful scenic productions of the opera engagement are a guarantee of the manner in which the play produced by Booth and Modjeska will be given.

The company consists of sixty members, the best people that money could secure, combined from members, also of the company of Ovation, lately disbanded by Lawrence Barrett, which makes it the strongest dramatic company that ever visited Louisville. The following is the repertoire—Thursday, May 1st, Richard III. Friday, May 2nd, Macbeth. Saturday, May 3rd, Hamlet. Sunday, May 4th, Othello. Monday, May 5th, The Merchant of Venice.
